

kommunicate.io

Question 5 If you are to start a software company, name 2 people from your batch whom you will choose as your partner and why?

Among my friends, Shruti is the one I would choose first, due to our long-standing friendship, which cultivates trust. Her communication skills are excellent, and she is an accomplished programmer, which are crucial skills to have when starting a software company. Her positive vibes motivate the team and inspire me to push myself further. Another candidate I am considering is Rishabh. His financial expertise will be invaluable for raising funds for the company. In addition, he can evaluate people clearly, leading to a great team in the company.